FOURTH ANNUAL TASTE OF HEALTH WELLNESS

Atlanta, GA, November 20, 2017– In recognition of Diabetes Awareness Month Ruby A. Neeson Diabetes Awareness Foundation, Inc. held their 4th Annual Taste of Health Wellness Expo, in collaboration with Ashley Stewart- Greenbriar on Saturday, November 11 at Greenbriar Mall a popular destination in the heart of southwest Atlanta.

The afternoon rendered a consequential, engaging time to raise awareness of diabetes, its complications, and the plight of chronic disease and food insecurity. The day also concurred with Veteran's Day which honored the service contributions of those who served in the US military.

Thirty-two exhibitors were present to offer products and resources to promote an array of possibilities to protect overall health in the sector of nutrition, fitness, skincare and more. Guests enjoyed a fashion show sponsored by lifestyle brand Ashley Stewart and C & J Menswear; music, live performances, fitness demonstrations, and creative food samples prepared by award winning Chef Troy LaRose, of Taylor Rose Culinary Boutique.

4th Annual Taste of Health Wellness Expo presented a day of merriment to strengthen family ties which contribute to the overall well-being of the community.
